Feminist MP Harman quits after 40 years

VETERAN Labour MP Harriet Harman has announced she will stand down at the next general election.

She will leave Camberwell and Peckham after 40 years as their MP.

Harman promised to "work energetically" until next polling day. But Ms Harman said she would then leave the Commons "now confident that Labour is gaining strength under the leadership of Keir Starmer".

The 71-year-old became an MP in 1982 and has held a raft of posts in the party – including two brief stints as leader after Gordon Brown and Ed Miliband stepped down.

She is better known for her feminist campaigning.

Ms Harman said: "I will leave the House with my feminism, my belief in Labour and my enthusiasm for politics undimmed."

Record high for UK house prices

THE average UK house price has increased by £1,691 per month since the UK first entered lockdown in March 2020.

Property values hit a new record high of £272,992 on average in November, Halifax said.

Managing director Russell Galleys said: "Since the onset of the pandemic, house prices have risen by £33,816, or £1,691 per month."

Quarterly house value inflation was at its strongest level since 2006. Prices increased by 1% month on month in November, and by 8.2% annually.

MAXWELL ASKED TEEN: 'WILL YOUR PALS GIVE EPSTEIN BLOWJOBS?'

EVIDENCE: 'Kate' on the stand

A FORMER British model took the stand to detail how she was allegedly lured into Jeffrey Epstein's orbit by Ghislaine Maxwell at 17 – and asked to recruit other girls to give him oral sex.

The woman, identified only as "Kate" for privacy reasons, testified that the British socialite introduced her to Epstein at Maxwell's London townhouse in the early 1990s and convinced her to give him a sexual massage soon after.

Maxwell even tried to get Kate to recruit others to give the late paedophile oral sex, telling her he liked "cute, young, pretty" girls "like you".

"She would ask me if I knew anybody to come and give Jeffrey a blowjob because it was a lot for her to do," said former actress Kate.

The witness, now 44, said the duo promised to help with her music career and bragged about the powerful people they knew, including Prince Andrew and Donald Trump.

The publishing heiress "seemed to know everybody", Kate told the court.

"She was friends with Prince Andrew, friends with Donald Trump. Sometimes their names would just come up or she would be talking on the phone about them with me present," the witness said.

On one occasion, Kate said, she was made to wear a schoolgirl outfit to have sex with Epstein at his mansion in Florida.

Maxwell, 59 and daughter of British publishing crook Robert Maxwell, was arrested in July 2020 for her alleged role in Epstein's sexual abuse of girls as young as 14. She pleads not guilty to all charges.

Xmas turkey is clucking expensive!

THE cost of a typical Christmas turkey dinner has risen by 3.4% as rocketing inflation pushes up food prices.

Kantar said the average cost of a Christmas meal for four, with a frozen turkey and all the trimmings, is now £27.48.

The figures show wider grocery prices are up 3.2% year on year in the four weeks to November 28.

But the data suggests Britons are not yet reining in their spending for the festive season, with sales of supermarket premium own-label ranges, such as Tesco Finest and Asda Extra Special, the fastest growing.

Kantar said overall supermarket sales dropped 3.8% to £29.6 billion over the 12 weeks to November 28.

But grocery spending was still stronger than pre-pandemic levels, up 7% over the quarter compared with the same period in 2019.

Kantar's Fraser McKevitt said: "It's clear that shoppers want to make this Christmas extra special."

Omicron cases take sharp rise

CASES of the almost-harmless Omicron variant in the UK are soon expected to be higher than in some African countries placed on the travel red list, a scientist has warned.

Professor Tim Spector said early data suggests cases of the mutation are doubling every two days, putting it on course to overtake some of the 11 countries from where travellers to the UK are required to quarantine in a bid to stop Omicron.

Prof Spector says there is "very little point" in having travel restrictions if case numbers exceeded those in red list countries.

Experts say that the new variant causes very mild symptoms, leaving everyone baffled why the government is in such a flap over it.

IT WASN'T CHAOTIC

KABUL CHAOS: Raab has defended his actions

DOMINIC Raab has hit back at claims that the evacuation of Afghanistan was "chaotic" while he was foreign secretary.

Whistleblower Raphael Marshall, who worked for the Foreign Office during the effort, claimed that just 5% of Afghan nationals who applied to flee under one UK scheme received help.

Some were murdered after being left behind in Kabul when the Taliban swept to power in August, he alleged in shock evidence to the Commons Foreign Affairs Committee.

He alleged Mr Raab "did not fully understand the situation", was slow to rule on cases and requested that they were put "in a well-presented table" before making a decision.

Mr Raab, who was moved to

...says minister who was on holiday when Kabul fell

By COLIN HURST

become Justice Secretary and Deputy Prime Minister after his handling of the crisis, sought to defend his record, having been heavily criticised for holidaying in Crete as the Taliban were storming back to power in Afghanistan.

"It's inaccurate in certain respects, the suggestion that junior desk officers were making decisions is just not correct," he said.

"There's a difference between processing and deciding, so I'm afraid I don't accept that characterisation.

"On the charge it took hours to make decisions, we're not talking about days, it's not been weeks, but several hours to make sure we had the facts, and that, as between myself, the Home and the Defence Secretary, decisions were made and actually I would suggest that is a reasonably swift turnaround."

One of Mr Marshall's main allegations was that at one point the minister "declined to make a decision" on whether to admit a group of women's rights activists "without a properly formatted submission with a table setting out multiple cases".

It would have been fine for Mr Raab to defer to the crisis centre's judgment but "in the circumstances it is hard to explain why he reserved the decision for himself but failed to make it immediately", the former official said.

Swift

Mr Raab responded: "In terms of presentation, of course with the volume of claims coming in I make no apology for saying I needed the clear facts that each case presented precisely so we can make swift decisions."

"Some of the criticism seems dislocated from the facts on the ground, the pressures with the takeover of the Taliban."

"I do think that not enough recognition has been given to quite how difficult it was."

TODAY'S WEATHER

STORM Barra will bring a second day of high winds and driving rain, particularly in the west. It will be drier and much brighter in the east. Gales will ease later. Temperatures of 8C in London, 5C in Cardiff, 5C in Manchester, 5C in Belfast and 4C in Edinburgh. Thursday will remain unsettled with showers and some longer spells of rain but the wind should drop. Some snow on high ground in the north. Temperatures of 7C in London, 5C in Cardiff, 5C in Manchester, 5C in Belfast and 4C in Edinburgh. OUTLOOK: Cloudy.

THE effects of Storm Barra were felt across the UK and Ireland yesterday, with gusty winds and heavy rainfall battering communities already enduring days-long power outages.

The Met Office announced its yellow wind warning came into force from 9am on Tuesday, meaning disruption on the travel network is likely.

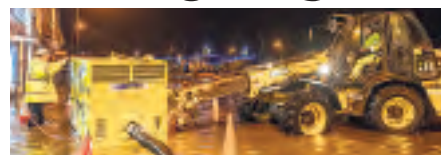

There is also "a small chance" that larger-than-usual waves in coastal areas could present a risk of injury or potentially a threat to life if wild winds whip street furniture and beach material into the air.

BARRA BLOWS IN

Gusts of 67mph were recorded in the Isles of Scilly, off the far south-west coast of England yesterday morning.

And there is expected to be further misery for homes still without power after Storm

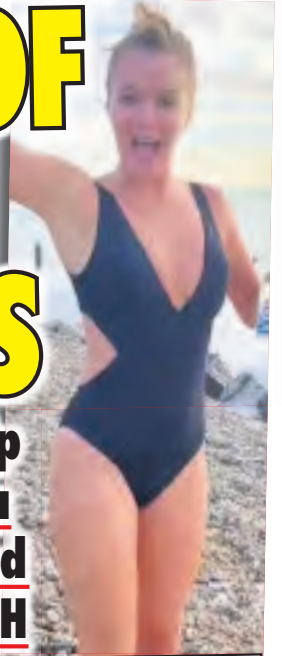

Arwen left hundreds of households in the north-east of England without electricity. Northern Powergrid said it was in "the final push" to reconnect the 500 customers who remain without power on Tuesday morning.

FOR most people, she is the woman who broke TV legend Les Dennis's heart when she had a grubby affair with Boon actor Neil Morrissey.

But despite that all-too-public shame, Amanda Holden has never been shy of showing off her figure in swimwear during the summer months.

Now it seems the blonde is up to the same tricks in winter as she slipped on a swimsuit for a dip in the chilly sea at the weekend.

The presenter, 50, showed off her toned and youthful figure in the black one piece which had a plunging neckline.

Stripped

She stripped off for the swim and was joined by her gal pals Lisa Faulkner and Sarah Parish as they braved the cold waters together.

Amanda shared a clip on Instagram of the day's activities as the group got ready and then ran into the waves.

The beauty captioned her video: "It was bloody freezing!" as her online fans told her in the comments how brave she had been to get into the cold water, while Alas, when the pics were republished on the Daily Mail's website, they attracted all the WRONG attention.

And one comment was made by a so-called fart fetishist, who dreamed of slurping up some of Amanda's botty gas.

MisteroftheUniverse, from Dubai, slavered: "I would swallow one of her farts."

And MyKneeHurts, of Boston, Massachusetts, drooled: "I'd like to offer her a lifetime seat on my face," to which Manc in Stockholm added: "But she might let rip."

FLOGGING megabucks mansions is all in a day's work for Heather Rae Young, who sells some of Los Angeles's swankiest homes for a living.

But there is one swish address in the city which the star of Netflix reality smash Selling Sunset is more familiar with than her glam colleagues... the Playboy mansion.

Before becoming an estate agent, Heather was a Playmate for the iconic magazine, and does not for a minute regret stripping fully nude for it.

She said: "It catapulted my career, it changed my life, it was the most defining moment for me."

In Playboy, Heather showed off her breasts and neatly-trimmed privates.

Unfortunately though, it being Playboy, Heather did not do American-strength held-open shops, parting her labia for the camera.

It's 10 years since Heather, now 34, cast off her kit for the sexy mag set up and run by Hugh Hefner, and her life has done a complete 180-degree turn because now she is a high-flying estate agent.

She admitted: "I'm still trying to figure out how I'm going to tell the kids I did Playboy."

Selling Sunset, which charts the professional and personal lives of workers at high-end LA real estate firm the Oppenheim Group, is available to stream now.

"I can't wait for everyone to read my fun and juicy stories in my career."

A "steamy" read, the book covers her rise to fame in Disney's Boy Meets World as Rachel McGuire, as well as on famed soap opera The Bold and the Beautiful and cult classic movie White Chicks.

But she also digs into her frustration when she was being "typecast" in the girl-next-door role and could not embrace her own sexuality on-screen.

Her sex-positive attitude then led her to high-end pornography, for which she's earned several Adult Video News (AVN) awards — the Oscars of porn.

"Rated X is a sharp and

No topic is off-limits, whether about what really happens behind the scenes on an adult film set or even her deeper emotions, like dealing with the stigma associated with sex work.

'Woke' Harry slammed for quit attitude

"PRIVILEGED" Prince Harry has been slammed on social media and labelled a "hypocrite" after advising people to quit their jobs to help improving their mental health.

The Duke of Sussex, 37 (above), left his "job" two years ago to live in California after he quit the Royal family with wife Meghan Markle, due to a "lack of support and understanding".

On Monday, Harry discussed his role as chief impact officer with California-based mental health start-up firm BetterUp.

He said the world was at the "beginning of the mental health awakening" and also spoke about "continuing to pioneer the conversation".

But Twitter users were quick to criticise the "woke" prince, who is sixth in line to the British throne, as he continues to live a luxury lifestyle in a £10million mansion he owns with Meg. The couple also have a £19m Spotify deal and a £113m Netflix contract.

One wrote: "Harry you are so out of touch with real everyday working class people."

Hard facts show Viagra can cut Alzheimer's risk

STIFFY pill Viagra can stop you going gaga, boffins claim.

Taking the blue tablet slashes Alzheimer's risk by two-thirds, research suggests.

Scientists claim the love drug may help boost brain health and cut levels of toxic proteins that trigger dementia.

Experts analysed data on 7.2 million US adults and found users had a 69 percent lower chance of getting Alzheimer's over the next six years.

Medics say findings, suggest Viagra could soon be prescribed to tackle dementia.

They are planning a fresh study to test the benefits of sildenafil - the generic version of Viagra - in Alzheimer's patients.

A team looked at whether any of 1,600 drugs could be repurposed to tackle the disease.

Pope Francis blasts 'woke' Brussels for banning Christmas

THE Pope has compared the EU to a "Nazi dictatorship" for trying to impose "woke" rules on language, and ban using the word "Christmas".

Pope Francis, 84, warned the European Union not to take the path of ideological colonisation as he returned from Greece after a four-day trip.

Last week, the EU was accused of trying to cancel Christmas after telling its staff to avoid the word in favour of "holiday period" because it could be offensive to non-Christians.

By BLAKE LEIGH
news@sundaysport.co.uk

Eurocrats published the rule months ago as part of their guide on inclusive communication, details of which leaked and led to a furious backlash.

Other suggestions in the book included replacing old Christian names such as Mary and John with international names such as Malika and Julio when using them in generic examples, and swapping the word "man-made" for "human-induced".

Secularism

The Pontiff said that the language diktats, which the European Commissioner for Equality admitted "clearly needed more work", was merely "a fad... watered-down secularism".

He said while on board the papal plane on his return to the Vatican: "It is something that throughout history has not worked."

"In history, many dictatorships have tried to do these things. I'm thinking of Napoleon, the Nazi dictatorship, the Communist one."

He added that the EU is "necessary" but it needs to avoid stirring up divisions among its member states, adding: "The European Union must be careful not to take the path of ideological colonisation. This could end up dividing countries and causing the EU to fail."

"The European Union must respect each country's internal structure, its variety and not try to make them uniform."

"I don't think it will do that, it wasn't its intention, but it must be careful, because sometimes they come and throw projects like this one out there."

Last week's EU document also told staff to "avoid assuming that everyone is Christian" and that "not everyone celebrates the Christian holidays, and not all Christians celebrate them on the same dates".

Instead of saying: "Christmas time can be stressful," staff were told to say, "Holiday times can be stressful."

However, after much criticism on social media Brussels subsequently announced it was now withdrawing the book, saying: "The guidelines clearly require more work."

China's threat to retaliate over Yank Games boycott

CHINA has condemned a planned US diplomatic boycott of the 2022 Winter Olympics in Beijing and have now threatened to RETALIATE.

Dead-eyed Foreign Ministry spokesman Zhao Lijian said China would take "resolute counter-measures", but did not give further details.

On Monday, the US said it would not send diplomats to Beijing over concerns about China's human rights record.

It added that US athletes could go and would have full government support.

At a media briefing yesterday, Mr Zhao accused the US of violating "political neutrality in sport" and said the proposed boycott was "based on lies and rumours".

Tensions are high between both countries.

The US has accused China of genocide in its repression of the predominantly Muslim Uyghur minority in the western region of Xinjiang, an allegation China has strongly denied.

Landlord kills tenant who spunked in girlfriend's panties

ARRESTED: Pritchard

A LANDLORD killed his tenant after catching him ejaculating into his lover's frilly panties.

While authorities are not releasing the name of the victim, cops said Michael Pritchard told witnesses he killed the man after catching him wanking into his girlfriend's lacy underwear.

The Sheriff's Office in Collier County, Florida, said a witness called and told them Pritchard confessed to killing a man who was previously reported to authorities as missing.

The witness said the 35-year-old told him he shot and killed the man, then buried the body near the house.

Executed

The following day, detectives executed a search warrant on Pritchard's property.

After a brief search, investigators found the body of the missing man in a shallow grave.

By BRAD CHADWICK
news@sundaysport.co.uk

Pritchard was then nicked and charged with second-degree murder.

The sheriff's office said it could not release Pritchard's address as doing so may reveal the name of the victim, whose identity can't be disclosed under Marsy's Law, a voter-approved amendment to the Florida constitution aimed at protecting the privacy of crime victims.

While authorities said Pritchard and the victim knew each other, it was reported locally the victim was a tenant of Pritchard's who paid rent and lived with him at the property where his body was found buried.

According to a copy of the arrest report, Pritchard was said to have a history of erratic and violent behaviour.

The report also stated Pritchard told multiple witnesses that he shot and killed the victim because he caught him masturbating into Pritchard's girlfriend's underwear.

After being taken into custody, Pritchard was processed and is currently being held in the Collier County Jail.

Online records show that Pritchard was previously arrested in January 2019 and charged with one count each of battery for touching or striking another person against their will and resisting a law enforcement officer without violence.

Porn star 'car vandal' held

A PORN star who calls himself 'Jean Jacques the Cock' has been locked up for smashing up a car.

Patrice Thibodeau, who links to his own Pornhub channel on Twitter, spent a hard day's night in the Palm Beach County jail in Florida following his arrest on multiple charges.

Thibodeau allegedly vandalised a car in the area of 5th Avenue, in Boca Raton.

When police arrived at the scene, Thibodeau refused to come quietly.

The 33-year-old was arrested and charged with resisting an officer with violence, property damage/criminal mischief over £150 but under £750, and resisting an officer without violence.

He was later bailed to appear in court in the New Year.

Santa Claus is gunning to town...

ANTI-gun campaigners have blasted cops for sharing a snap showing SANTA CLAUS getting a GUN LICENCE!

A sheriff's office in Colorado tweeted the pic (above) of someone dressed as Saint Nick getting his concealed carry permit, sparking outrage from some who slammed the post as being "insensitive".

Naked thief in 120mph chase

A MAN who ran around naked and shoplifted from a petrol station followed it up by leading police on a high-speed pursuit.

The Utah Highway Patrol said the chase started when troopers attempted to pull the man's vehicle over for traffic violations near Nephi.

Instead of stopping, the suspect fled the scene, reaching speeds of 120mph during the pursuit.

Cops were eventually able to spike the man's tyres, leading the suspect to pull over on the highway in Santaquin.

Traffic cam footage shows officials surrounding the vehicle before the man surrenders and is taken into custody.

After his arrest, it was discovered the suspect was the subject of an earlier lewdness call at the petrol station.

The man is accused of running around naked and stealing an item from the business.

Cops were alerted after a shocked parent reported an inappropriate relationship between a student and a teacher that was apparently common knowledge at Clovis High School in Clovis, California.

Officers held Amanda Hubble, 31, over the weekend, but she is now out of jail on bail.

The choir teacher at Clovis High School has now been put on leave while police investigate.

school student.

She now faces several charges related to having sex with a minor.

Ms Hubble has been a teacher with Clovis Unified school district since 2016 and just started at Clovis High this year.

Detectives say that the relationship was relatively new and did not happen at school.

Cops say they have a lot of evidence to go through as they continue to investigate the relationship.

It's believed evidence includes hundreds of text messages, naked pictures the couple swapped and what are described as "sexual appliances" believed to have been used by the boy on Ms Hubble's vagina and anus.

Clovis Unified said it is working with police to help them with their investigation.

The principal at Clovis High sent an email to parents, saying that the administration takes the incident seriously.

Meanwhile, cops will continue to investigate and the charges could be filed by the District Attorney's office.

CHINESE PROBE ALIEN 'SHED' ON THE MOON

CHINA is sending a lunar rover to study what looks like a GARDEN SHED on the far side of the Moon!

Images of the strange object, which looks oddly geometric against the stark black horizon, prompted scientists from China's Change 4 mission to send its Yutu 2 rover on a three-month journey to check out.

The country's National Space Administration describes the object as a "mysterious hut".

The organisation also joked that the object could be a home built by aliens following a crash landing in the Von Kármán crater in the South Pole-Aitken Basin, where their rover has been navigating since January 2019.

'Comfort' sheep kills pensioner

AN OAP woman died after being savaged by a "comforting" SHEEP. Kim Taylor, 73, was attacked by the animal at Cultivate Care Farm in Bolton, near Boston, Massachusetts.

Mrs Taylor, who had been a volunteer at the therapy farm, was in a pen alone with the sheep when it charged at her.

She suffered extensive injuries and went into cardiac arrest after first responders arrived and was pronounced dead after being rushed to a nearby hospital.

Cops said all animals at the farm are "comfort animals" which help jittery patients deal with trauma or mental problems.

NO COVID TEST SNARES TEENAGE KIDNAPPER!

A KIDNAPPER'S plan to sneak his teenage victim across the border from the US to Canada was foiled because neither had proof of a negative COVID test.

Christopher Costanzo, 19 (below), was nabbed at the Vermont border with Canada with a 16-year-old girl, who later told cops he'd tied her up and forced her at knifepoint into the boot of her parents' car.

He kidnapped the teenager in his hometown of Torrington, Connecticut, before heading towards Canada, Vermont State Police said.

Costanzo removed the girl from the boot and put her in the car before they tried to cross the border.

But they were denied entry into Canada because neither had proof that they were COVID-free.

The girl then told Customs and Border Protection staff she was being held against her will, after she voluntarily met Costanzo but he had sexually assaulted her.

Costanzo is expected to face federal charges.

Nonce fakes suicide to avoid court

A NONCE pretended to kill himself to avoid being sentenced for failing to register as a sex offender.

Jesse Lee Wood, 26 (above), tried to make it look like he'd jumped off a bridge into a river, the day before he was due to face a judge.

Wood parked his truck near the bridge overnight and emailed a suicide note to a friend, saying where his belongings could be found.

When officers from Jackson County arrived at the scene they found Wood's vehicle nearby and his mobile phone on a ledge of the bridge that separates West Virginia and Ohio.

But when cops found out that Wood was due to be sentenced the next day, they checked his home address and found him hiding in a bedroom wardrobe.

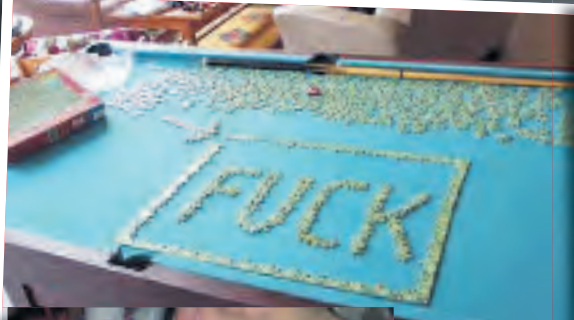

Wood was charged with falsifying an emergency report and sent to prison.

COMMUNISM was meant to rid the world of poverty, war, great inequality and unearned power.

Spoiler alert, it didn't.

Instead it gave us terrible cars, a terrifying decades-long cold war and Vladimir Putin.

This week marks the 30th anniversary of the break up of the Soviet Union, effectively marking the end of communism in Europe.

Beauties

And to mark the occasion we are printing a two-part special on all the boobs that would have stayed hidden behind the Iron Curtain, had it not been for the fall of Communism.

To start, here are five pages of eastern European beauties with their busters out!

TORTURED: Boyd stabbed Dawnia Dacosta in such a way as to cause maximum pain

OFFICIALLY, violent rapist Lucious Boyd is responsible for just one murder, the harrowing homicide of a young woman involving a mechanical saw, a screwdriver and horrific flesh wounds.
But investigators suspect he's slain many, many more, fearing he could even be one of the most prolific serial killers in American history...

LUCIOUS Boyd, 57, grew up surrounded by death.

His father, James, ran Boyd's Funeral Home in Fort Lauderdale, Florida, where Lucious helped out, assisting in the embalming of corpses.

But James had no idea his son's fascination with dead bodies would later lead to him creating his own – as many as a DOZEN, according to cops.

Because, while the brute still protests his innocence at the one killing he was convicted of, police who delved into his murky past are convinced Boyd is a

By KOURTNEY KENNEDY
news@sundaysport.co.uk

remorseless mass murderer. When he was eventually snared, Boyd told arresting officers, "What took you so long to catch me?" – an apparent reference to earlier slayings.

It is thought he used the family funeral parlour to dispose of the bodies that piled up around him.

Yet you wouldn't know he was a killer from his outward appearance.

Boyd was a local lothario, lusted over by housewives, while working as a good-natured maintenance man at a church-affiliated daycare centre.

His connection to God counted for nothing, though – and families of victims he killed hope he rots in hell for eternity.

Yves Zacot's 25-year-old daughter, Danielle, went missing following a brief romance with Boyd in 1999. He is convinced Boyd is to blame and is desperate to know the truth before Boyd is put to death.

Womaniser

Yves says: "I cannot sit by and say nothing. That's why I live."

"The only reason for me to live now is to get answers about Boyd, to get answers to help other victims."

"Boyd needs to repent, confess and reveal the truth of what happened to my daughter."

Boyd, a "charmer" and a "womaniser", first married in 1981 when he got hitched to Edina Birgs.

Since then he's been divorced, remarried, and divorced again while fathering at least eight children.

Edina explains: "He was a young guy, good looking, and all the women were at him."

"He had no problems with women."

"He was very sweet and he knew how to treat them, but he was a spoiled brat with no responsibility."

"He didn't have to worry about anything because his family didn't push him to take care of himself or his children."

Boyd's family had no idea that behind his happy exterior lurked a menacing rage.

His second wife, Julie McCormick, had him hauled before the courts in 1990 for trying to throttle her to death. He'd lost it when she'd accused him of cheating on her.

Despite the severity of the crime, Boyd was given nothing more than probation.

Two years later, he was accused of raping a girl celebrating her 18th birthday.

His victim eventually decided not to press charges, leaving police with no choice but to once again let him walk free.

And his reputation for being as slippery as an eel was cemented in 1994 when he again avoided charges despite stabbing another man to death.

Boyd was dating the sister of 31-year-old Roderick Bullard when they rowed in October 1993 after Bullard caught Boyd sleeping with another woman.

Boyd plunged a knife into Bullard's chest six times, killing him outright.

He successfully argued self-defence, saying the law stipulated he had "no duty to retreat" – and got off scot-free.

For the next few years Boyd laid low. Then, in the summer of 1997 he went drinking and dancing with an old female school friend, who can't be named for legal reasons.

Boyd drove his date home in his car, where he demanded sex. When she refused, he lunged for her neck and began squeezing it with his muscular hands.

THE WORLD'S MOST EVIL MURDERERS AND THE HORRIFIC CRIMES THAT SAW THEM SENTENCED TO EXECUTION...

He forced her to perform oral sex before raping her, shouting: "You don't know who you're messing with!"

She later said: "He would hold my throat and watch me not breathe. I was just looking up, like, 'What's going on?'"

Rape

"I started counting the seconds that I wasn't breathing. I remember thinking, 'I can't believe this is how I'm going to die.'"

The woman went straight to the police to file rape charges – but Boyd was cleared of all wrongdoing in February 1999 following a brief trial.

Little did the jurors realise who they were letting off.

Boyd was arrested for another heinous crime just a few weeks later.

In December 1998, "angelic" virgin Dawnia Dacosta, 21, disappeared after her car ran out of fuel.

She'd walked to the nearest petrol station in the dead of night.

That's where witnesses saw her accepting a lift from a man in a turquoise van owned by the Hope Outreach Ministry Church – the same church Boyd worked for.

Three days after she went missing, Dawnia's battered body turned up dumped next to some bins in an isolated industrial park.

She had been raped, stabbed with a screwdriver 36 times and bludgeoned over the head with an electric saw before being wrapped in a shower curtain and laundry bag.

Detective Glenn Butaka believes that the injuries Dawnia sustained point to her attacker taking great pleasure in torturing her.

He said: "The injuries on her chest were superficial."

Stabbing

"The blows did not penetrate the chest or body cavities and didn't contribute to death."

"It's as if the killer was on top of her and stabbing her simply to cause pain."

"The cause of death was a stab wound to the skull."

"It went through her skull as if it was the final coup de grace."

Four months after the murder, investigating officers were making their way through Fort Lauderdale when they had a huge slice of luck.

They just happened to stumble on a turquoise van with the word 'Hope' written on the side.

It was the needle in the haystack they'd been praying to find.

Upon his arrest, Boyd cried crocodile tears for the cameras of local TV crews, telling them: "I did not do this, what they're talking about. I did not do this here."

But he was facing an overwhelming array of forensic evidence which pointed right at him.

When police officers searched his flat they found his brown carpet saturated with Dawnia's blood.

Fibres from that carpet were also found on Dawnia's body. A cast was made of Boyd's teeth, which later matched a bite mark found on Dawnia's arm.

And, just for good measure, Boyd's DNA was found under her fingernails.

In January 2002, Boyd was convicted of murder and sentenced to death.

But the story doesn't end there.

Unsolved

As well as Danielle Zacot's disappearance, Boyd has been fingered for the June 1998 vanishing of Patrece Alston, the daughter of Broward Sheriff's Office sergeant Barry Alston.

Patrece was last seen getting into a green Mazda with Boyd before going on a weekend road trip. Boyd then returned – Patrece was never seen again.

Around about the same time, the body of 24-year-old cocaine addict Melissa Floyd was found stabbed, naked and raped near a motorway, having seemingly been thrown from a moving car.

Her killer has never been found – but Palm Beach County Sheriff's Department detective Wayne Robinson is convinced Boyd is the culprit, despite a lack of physical evidence, after Melissa's ID card bizarrely turned up at the Boyd funeral home.

They are just one of many unsolved missing persons cases in and around Fort Lauderdale which point to Boyd.

After his trial and conviction in 2002, another woman, called Michelle Galloway, came forward to relate her own woes at his hands.

In 1997, 22-year-old Michelle had accepted a lift from Boyd, only to have him hold a knife to her throat and demand oral sex.

She managed to bite Boyd's hand, making him drop the weapon, breaking free and alerting people nearby who quickly called the police.

Staggeringly, when officers arrived on the scene, they dismissed Michelle's complaints, accusing her of being a prostitute who had got angry when Boyd was unable to pay for her services.

Humiliation

Not only had they let Boyd slip through their fingers, they'd subjected a rape victim to yet even more degradation and humiliation by not believing her.

Now investigators are urging Boyd to finally come clean about all of his crimes.

Detective Butaka adds: "I just hope that before Boyd is executed he is man enough to finally tell us – to tell me – where the bodies of these other missing girls are."

"Family members want to know. They need to know."

GIANT SNAKE INVITED ME TO HOUSE PARTY

NICKED:
Jessie
Terry
(below)

Crack loon's excuse when he was found in neighbour's apartment

A MAN who was found trying to break into a woman's flat claimed a "giant snake" had invited him to join a party inside.

When cops nabbed Jessie Terry at 2am, he explained to them a big snake told him to open the victim's door and go inside.

Terry, 52, also reportedly told arresting officers that he had smoked crack "within the last hour".

Cops raced to the West Monroe, Louisiana, residence of a woman who reported that Terry had tried to open the back door to her home.

During questioning, Terry, who lives near the victim's property, reportedly spoke of his recent crack use and how he was told to open the woman's door and enter her home by a "big snake".

The junkie explained that the snake, which was a python or an anaconda, had told him he was wanted to join a "wild party" going on inside the flat.

The reptile in question is not further described in the arrest report.

Terry was booked into the local jail for unauthorised entry of an inhabited dwelling and disturbing the peace.

The police report notes that Terry has a long criminal history.

A police source said: "Down these parts, if some varmint comes trying to break in your home at two in the goddamned morning, that goddamned varmint deserves nothing more than a bellyful of hot lead, by jingo!"

"And talk of a giant snake is nothing but the goddess ravings of some goddamned son of a hornswaggler, yes siree!"

JUSTIN DUNN'S ROOM 101

WHAT'S ANNOYING HIM THIS WEEK?

The North isn't grim... but it IS ignored

AROUND 25 years ago, in what seems like a different lifetime, a lorry attempted to drive into the Blackwall Tunnel in central London.

I say "attempted", because the truck was too tall and it got wedged in at the tunnel entrance.

It was 5pm on a Friday night, literally home time for many, and chaos ensued.

Despite London having some other below-river crossings, and many bridge crossings, and all sorts of different and ever-expanding Tube lines, the capital screamed to a halt.

And this particularly pissed off my boss at the time, a certain Piers Morgan, who was looking to make an early dart in his chauffeur-driven Jaguar to his home south of the river.

So incensed was Piers that he decided to change the next day's front page of the paper he was editing at the time.

Carnage

Time dulls the memory of exactly what it said but it was along the lines of "traffic carnage" in huge black letters.

But the story meant little to anyone who didn't live in London.

Especially those in the north of England, who just so happened, funnily enough, to be the mainstay of his paper's readership.

It was an act of editorial petulance that essentially said: "What about me?" when the rest of Britain simply couldn't give a toss whether he was late home or not.

Nor whether That Fancy London was suddenly inconvenienced

INCENSED:
Morgan
put London and the South first in the way that northern commuters, rail or road, traditionally always had been, were then, and still are now similarly encumbered every single day.

In the last week we have seen the usual opposite of this when it happens anywhere outside the capital.

Pubgoers were holed up by snow for days on end in Yorkshire and you might have read a bit about that, because it sounded like fun.

But the thousands in Northumberland left without power for days on end because of Storm Arwen damage?

Not so much.

And not so much for the 90-something-year-old man who was bedbound, whose great neighbours managed to get a power feed into his bedroom so he could at least have his electric blanket on and not freeze to death.

You haven't heard these stories because they didn't happen down south, which is where most of our media are based.

Yes, we have local and regional newspapers and radio and television stations, but the former are obsessed with pointless online clickbait and the latter drones on with television-friendly images of escaped cows.

For all the supposed explosion of "news" these days thanks to the internet, it seems we're no better at "levelling up" the countryside agenda than Boris is at keeping to HS2 promises.

Those of us who know, know it is not grim up North.

But it IS ignored. Constantly.

Assumption

And when you are in a London media setting, even when surrounded by people from the provinces, there is still an assumption that "the North" is just one tiny place.

Yet Carlisle isn't Leeds, Newcastle isn't Manchester, Liverpool isn't Hull, and York certainly isn't Preston or Lancaster or Bradford or Stoke.

You read it here first. Because you won't read it anywhere else.

Shot dead by boss in gun prank

A GUN store owner fatally shot a worker in the face during a questionable prank that turned deadly.

Jon Whitley, 59 (above), told authorities he mistook a real Glock 17 handgun for a BB gun when he blasted employee Stefan Mrgan at Coastal Firearms in Wando, South Carolina.

Whitley had placed a BB gun alongside real weapons in the store, intending to play a joke on Mrgan, but the boss ended up picking up a real gun and shot Mrgan at close range.

Whitley was arrested and has been slapped with an involuntary manslaughter charge.

The victim, who was 36 and had three kids, had served in the military and spent time in the Army Special Forces.

His widow, Alison, said: "It's inconceivable what this is going to do to our kids."

"Our four-year-old and four-month-old are not even old enough to understand. And he was really an amazing dad. They're going to miss out on that now."

Fact me!

Free pizza for new workers

DOMINO'S is so desperate to fill 7,000 jobs across Australia they're offering FREE PIZZA to try and attract new workers.

The pizza chain's Aussie CEO David Burness, who started out as a delivery driver 30 years ago, said most of the roles were casual or part time but the company liked to promote from within.

He said: "F or one of our successful applicants, they'll win a Nintendo Switch and free pizza for a year, so whoever that person is they're going to be very popular!"

He added that business had been booming for Domino's in the past two years as more people use home delivery.

Elsewhere, pub group Australian Venue Co, which has 170 venues around the country, is dishing up £5,000 food and drinks vouchers for new employees who stay on with the business for at least three months.

And in a scene from the latest episode on the streaming site,

Jackie gets personal with a character called Riyah, played by actor Chantal Maurice.

The scene features perhaps some of the most EXPLICIT lesbo sex ever featured on mainstream television as Jackie feasts on Riyah's meaty minge.

One fan of the show said: "It's really quite appropriate that Jackie Quinones is a fisheries protection officer."

"Because she's chomping down on Riyah's haddock pasty with great gusto."

THE WORLD FAMOUS AGONY

Dear Sam,

I'm a 45-year-old woman and I love being shagged by younger guys. I recently got divorced so a friend took me out to a nightclub where I pulled an 18-year-old hunk.

I got him in a quiet corner out of sight, slipped out of my panties, straddled him and then rode his mighty weapon until he exploded inside me.

He didn't last very long, so I went on the prowl. I got chatted up by a few fellas but this tall bald fella took my eye.

I took him back to mine and he was soon pumping me fast and hard from behind. Then he slipped his cock into my bum and I screamed with pleasure when he came in my arse.

Now my pal says she won't go out with me again because she thinks she'll get a bad reputation.

What do you think?

TC, Sheffield

Sam says...
FIND a new pal.

Dear Sam,

MY mate's bird loves getting her tits out and a couple of weeks ago, knowing that I'm a keen amateur photographer, she asked if she could pose for me.

I agreed, so she came to my place and it wasn't long before she was naked and letting me snap her right up her fanny.

She's 19, blonde, with massive boobs and a cracking body, and I soon had a rock-hard cock.

Seeing that I was really turned-on, she just smiled and said: "Well, are you going to fk me, or what?"

I didn't waste any time and knobbled her twice. I left my camera on and got some great pictures of me doing her.

They were so good she agreed I could send them to an adult magazine and they were printed. But her boyfriend saw them and he's now threatening to do me a mischief.

What should I do?

HP, Cornwall

Sam says...
STICK to snapping birds with wings!

I dread telling sis about love-rat squash hubby

Dear Sam,

MY sister and her husband always seem happy and go everywhere together, except when he plays squash.

I was passing the squash club one night when I decided to call in, but I was shocked when I saw him at the bar kissing and cuddling a young blonde.

I went and sat in my car. Then my brother-in-law and the blonde came out and got into his van.

I crept over to peep in. I was appalled to see them sucking each other frantically in the 69 position before he mounted her from behind.

I quickly drove to my sister's, but she looked so happy I hadn't the heart to tell her what I'd seen.

Should I tell her that her hubby's a love-rat and risk breaking her heart?

MR, Essex

Sam says...

TACKLE the cheating hubby first, but if he won't give up this girl, then you should tell your sister.

AGONY IS BROUGHT TO YOU IN ASSOCIATION

WELCOME to the World famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice – or experience – than our own Agony Angels! This week SAM TYE has been reading through your letters. And here's her advice for you...

Tipsy first taste of lesbo lust was mind-blowing!

Dear Sam,

I'M a 21-year-old student and my fella has been pestering me for a while to have sex with another woman while he watches.

It started a couple of months ago when I was on a night out with my course group and one of the girls came on to me.

At first I was a little taken aback, as I have never been with a woman before – although I have sometimes fantasised about it.

But as the night wore on and I got more and more tipsy, the thought of it really began to turn me on.

And when she gave me a goodnight kiss, I was thrilled as she slipped her tongue deep inside my mouth.

Juices

It was as if the decision had been made for me and I was quite willing to go along with it.

My whole body tingled as her hands held my bum, pulling my pubic mound to hers.

The sweet taste of her mouth got my juices flowing so much that when she asked if I wanted to go back to her place, I didn't hesitate.

As soon as the door to her flat closed behind us she quickly lifted my top, removed my bra and sucked and licked on my erect nipples as her hands fumbled with my zipper.

We moved into the living room, where she pushed me back on the sofa and pulled down my jeans and panties to leave me totally naked. I couldn't believe how wonderful it felt as she slowly spread my thighs and began fingering my pussy lips.

Then she leaned forward and teased my clit with her red-hot tongue.

Within minutes I was experiencing the most powerful orgasm of my life.

I've never been what purveyors of left-field grot flicks would call "a squirter" – and I still don't think I can truly count myself among their moist ranks – but the wetness of my womanhood was something to behold at that lusty moment.

Then it was the turn of my sapphic sex buddy. I felt nervous as she slipped off her clothes right in front of me.

But as she revealed more of her gorgeous body, it seemed natural to pleasure her in the same way she had pleased me.

My first taste of pussy was truly amazing. I flicked my hungry tongue across her fleshy petals time and time again, before locating her clitoris and going to work on that with some relish.

After she'd had a loud orgasm, we spent the rest of the night licking, sucking and fking each other – and have done several more times since.

She's even done me up the wrong 'un with a strap-on.

But I made the mistake of telling my fella and he was angry – not for me cheating on him, but because I didn't let him watch.

Should I?

DN, Nottingham

Sam says...

DON'T be pushed into accommodating his sexual fantasies if it's not something that you feel comfortable about.

Dear Sam,

I'D never had sex in a car before last week – and now I'm wondering if I was right to have done it.

I'm not a snob, though being an only daughter means my well-off father has made sure I've been pampered.

I've had three fellas before and, though the sex was unexciting, it always took place at my home when my parents were away, so a degree of comfort was assured.

My latest boyfriend, though, attracted me because he's a bit rough and ready and even looks dangerous.

After taking me for a drink at a rough pub, he drove me to a quiet wooded area and we started kissing.

Soon we were very hot for it and he had my knickers off and his fingers probing me.

I felt so ungainly as he hoisted my legs over his shoulders in the cramped car and entered me with an assured rhythm.

I climaxed with a passion I'd rarely experienced, and he came thickly inside me soon after.

When we'd done, though, my expensive clothes were all crumpled, I was sticky and I couldn't find my undies anywhere.

Have I been undignified?
BW, Berks

Sam says...

OH yes! Great, wasn't it?

My bird's hooked on me bonking her pals

Dear Sam,

MY girlfriend told me she'd had an erotic dream in which I was shagging her mate.

She said it turned her on so much that she wouldn't mind if it was real.

I have to say that filled me with much joy because I've wanted to bone her gorgeous mate for ages.

Anyway, we all went to the pub one night and had a few drinks before going back to our flat.

Her mate was all over me and soon had my rock-hard cock out and down the back of her throat.

Just as I was about to explode, my girlfriend came over and got me to spunk on her tits.

The two of them then led me into the bedroom and my bird said: "I want you to fk her really hard."

Randy

So I did as I was told and launched my throbbing dick into her from behind.

She was screaming in pleasure and as I pounded away for all I was worth I could see my girlfriend frantically playing with her fanny until she had a massive orgasm.

Since then my bird has been really randy in bed and she now wants me to shag another of her pals.

Don't get me wrong, I really enjoyed boning her pal but I'm not sure about doing it again with another of her mates because I think it's getting a little too perky now.

What should I do?

TC, Lancs

Sam says...

ARE you kidding? Most men would kill to be in your position.

'Blindfolded threesome is perfect birthday present!'

IN my wildest sexual fantasy I am tied to a bed, totally naked and blindfolded.

My boyfriend traces a feather down my whole body and I feel tingly with anticipation.

He says he has a special surprise for me, seeing as it's my birthday. We're into similar kinks and have discussed what we would and wouldn't do.

I'm very liberal, so there isn't much I'd say a hard no to!

I hear the door open and I wonder where he's going. After a while I feel hands caressing my thighs.

But wait... someone kisses me on the lips at the same time! I think, 'Oh wow, he has arranged a threesome with another man!'

And I could have sex with him without seeing his face.

How naughty... my heart is now racing as the two of them explore my body with their hands and tongues and it's thrilling.

As a hard cock is thrust in my mouth I'm not entirely sure whose it is.

It's a similar length and girth to my fella's but the slight grunting sounds are different. I eagerly suck it.

I'm on all fours and I'm entered from behind, while I continue to please the dick in my mouth. It's not long before I explode and have the most intense orgasm.

What a birthday gift...

SHOW ME THE HONEY!

WELCOME to the interactive Midweek Sport where YOU get to choose the stunnas appearing on these pages!

That's right fellas, we publish sexy snaps of the babes you most want to see, TOPLESS or even NAKED.

Every Wednesday, Show Me the

Honey features the cute curves of the glamour girls you're clamouring for. And this service, UNIQUE to UK newspapers, is totally FREE!

All you have to do is drop us an email to request@sundaysport.co.uk telling us why you want to see your favourite girl, then sit back and let us do the rest...

MICHELLE COLLINS

PLUMBER Kevin Jackson begged us for an early photo of blonde bombshell Michelle, and we're happy to oblige.

Kevin, 62, from Doncaster, wrote in requesting a snap of the Exeter beauty.

He said: "Chelle's pics have been keeping me warm at night for ages!

"Those 34Es are a sight to behold and I'll have more than a stiff pipe once I've seen her photo!

"If you could print a nice pic of her from when she started, that would be great.

"And I'd love those massive knockers to be the centre of attention."

CONSTANCE DEVIL

MEGA-boobed Constance always gets student Harry Summers hot and bothered.

Harry, 20, is studying physics at the University of Southampton, but there's only one woman he wants to get physical with.

He reckons Constance's boobs are the best in the business and he'd love to cop a feel of her 38Fs.

He said: "She has got to be the sexiest women alive. That top rack is simply sensational!"

AMANDA DORKING

ESSEX taxi driver Arshad Khan fantasises about local girl Amanda Dorking booking a ride in his cab.

The 33-year-old gets his fair share of passengers but his dream would be for awesome Amanda to hop in.

He said: "Amanda is from Colchester so there's every chance that one day I might give her a lift."

TURNAH

LONDON lovely Paige Turnah loves cock. Which is just as well as the 36E babe is one of Britain's top PORN STARS!

She said: "I started doing porn when I was 23 and just loved it straight away."

"For a long time I refused to do anal - that was just something I wanted to keep as a special treat for my man."

"But then I was offered a double-penetration scene with two hunks who had MASSIVE cocks and there was no way I could resist."

"I also love lesbian scenes. I did a great one where Samantha Bentley from Game of Thrones licked my pussy. That girl has a truly magical tongue!"

STRUGGLE: Partey

Partey not started for doubting Thomas

THOMAS Partey admits he's been pretty rubbish for Arsenal so far.

The Ghana midfielder has been hit and miss since his £45m move from Atletico Madrid just over a year ago.

He's had his issues with injuries too and was well off the pace as the Gunners were beaten 3-2 by Man United last week.

The 28-year-old knows he has to pull his socks up or risk being benched by Mikel Arteta.

Partey said: "I give myself four out of 10, because there are moments I can really hurt the other team but there are also moments where I allow myself to lose focus and that's when everything goes down."

"This is when you realise that you have to get better."

"From the start of the United game I had a couple of moments where I gave two balls away and someone watching on TV from home or in the stadium, it is normal that they see this."

Demanding

"At the end, I have to be happy with some moments, I have to learn from the bad parts and try to do better."

"I think they demanded more and personally I know I can give more. I have to keep working and at the end I will get the results."

Arteta is clearly a little frustrated by one of his key players.

He is clearly looking for more from Partey.

The Spaniard said: "Thomas is a really important player in the team and obviously we've missed him for long periods since he joined."

"And that is not ideal but our energy is just to get the best out of him and how we will do that."

"The fact he had so many injuries has not been really helpful for him because he hasn't found the platform first of all physically to be at his best."

"And then he has had games where he has been more consistent than in others."

"We need him at his best and he can produce more. He knows we have to demand more."

LESSER SPOTTED PLAYERS TO GET THEIR

PHIL YER BOOTS SAYS RALF

Jones and Co to get United gametime

RALF Rangnick says every player at Manchester United has a chance of playing now he's boss – even Phil Jones.

The new Red Devils gaffer has already brought about improvement with a solid victory against Crystal Palace.

Straight away it's clear that the German wants much more energy from his players who are urged to press more.

That means they are likely to be rested more to stop them burning out over the mad Christmas period.

Poor old Jones has had a torrid time over the past few years with injuries keeping him on the sidelines.

Now he's finally back in full training and Rangnick would love to play him against Young Boys in the Champions League tonight – but he can't.

The United interim boss said: "It's perfectly possible we bring some fresh players because the next game is coming up on Saturday, an away game at Norwich."

By PAUL THOMAS

"The problem is we can only play players who are in the Champions League list."

"For example, Phil Jones, whom I would love to give game-time on Wednesday after his long-term injury, unfortunately, he is not on the list, so we have to put our focus on players who will be allowed to play."

"It is possible, I don't know if we play a completely new 10 players because I don't know if we have enough players on the list but it's definitely possible we could play with some new players."

What United may do is bring in academy players who don't have to be on their Champions League squad list. Whoever plays, it's clear that Rangnick has very different ideas to Ole Gunnar Solskjaer.

He played a 4-2-2-2 system against Palace. It may have been only 1-0 but United looked much more dominant than in recent weeks.

Rangnick did some things the same as Solskjaer with Fred and McTominay sat in front of the back four. But that's where things got very different.

Attacking

Diogo Dalot and Alex Telles came in at full-back and got forward to support Bruno Fernandes and Jadon Sancho who were behind a front two of Cristiano Ronaldo and Marcus Rashford.

Rangnick thinks that helped the team have more time on the ball and was very different from the more counter-attacking style employed by Solskjaer. He said: "For me, it was logical not to change too many positions or too many things after the win against Arsenal."

"Everyone was fully fit, nobody was injured, fully recovered, I started to play the same starting XI."

"For me, the question was how do we get pressure on the ball, how do we get control?"

"So I decided to play 4-2-2-2 with two strikers, not Cristiano alone up front, together with Marcus, using pace for vertical balls."

And, at the same time, with Jadon and Bruno on the two 10 positions, for the rest of the team it was the same."

"We had enough space with Bruno and Jadon in those 10 positions for our full-backs to play forward and ask for the ball on the wing."

"So they almost played like wing-backs. Especially in the first-half, Alex and Diogo, did extremely well offensively and that's why I played

CHANCE UNDER BOSS RANGNICK

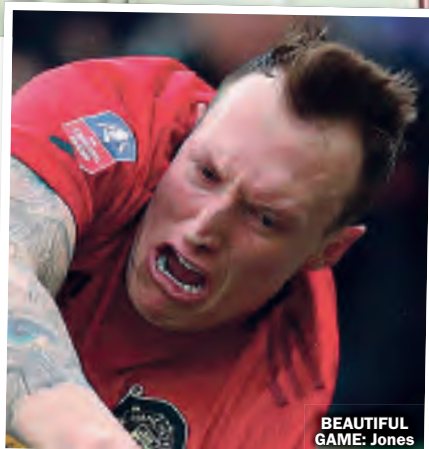

IMPROVER: Sancho played well in Rangnick's first game in charge

4-2-2-2. I'm a big fan of every player plays in his best possible position. "Themostchallenging,demanding positions in that formation are the two 10s but I still think, especially when Palace was in possession, Bruno and Jadon did well. "It was a little bit new but not that new, it doesn't make that much difference if Jadon plays a little further inside or outside, but defensively they both did well."

Finishing

Rangnick has been careful to build up Mason Greenwood even though he didn't make his first starting 11. He sees the young forward as an important part of his squad as the manager rates his pace and finishing abilities. The interim boss said: "Mason did so well at the start of the season, I think he scored three or four goals in the first three games, he's a very gifted homegrown player and I would love to give him more game-time in the future. But, of course, he has to deserve his game-time in training and, therefore, it was good to have him on the bench and bring him on the pitch." Rangnick has a reputation for being a more defensive manager and he insists that Fred and McTominay are key men for him – which won't make Roy Keane happy who can't stand watching them! The boss added: "When you play on the front foot, it's highly important you have players who are very disciplined, proactively aggressive against the ball. "Scotty and Fred are almost perfect defensively on that. "Overall, as I said, when the other team in possession of the ball, Fred and Scott are almost perfect."

BEAUTIFUL GAME: Jones

BIG GOAL: Origi at Wolves

Divock is still just supersub to boss Klopp

DIVOCK Origi must get used to his "supersub" role at Anfield says boss Jurgen Klopp. The Belgian came off the bench to rescue a win for Liverpool against Wolves at the weekend. And it's not the first time the striker has grabbed late glory for the Reds. But boss Klopp says it doesn't mean he'll be starting more matches in the future. Origi is stuck behind Mo Salah, Sadio Mane, Diogo Jota and Roberto Firmino in the Anfield pecking order. And he seems happy enough – although he does come knocking on the managers' door from time to time. Klopp said: "It's special thing Origi's skillset that he can come and play brilliantly. Biggest game in our history v Barca, he started and was incredible. "He's a positive person. Talented, shoots left and right, really quick, in the air a monster. An interesting package."

AWAY: Sadio Mane

Chance

"But that doesn't mean you are a constant starter for Liverpool FC, that is how it is. "There are worse things in life than not being a regular starter here. Mane and Salah will be away for much of January at the African Cup of Nations so Origi may get his chance then. Klopp added: "He showed he doesn't need much to warm up so we'll see what happens in January. "Players have to feel needed and that we value their quality. It's part of the job but first, the players' job is to train and then I make difficult decisions and we have to accept it. "Long term, everyone can be happy, maybe not in short term but all players are fine. "With Divock, moan is not the right word but he knocks on my door and we talk from time to time. "It's about letting things happen. He had injuries in wrong moments. "I remember that decisive moment when he was flying and he got injured v Everton. "We had to rush him back for Europa League final. Things like this are decisive for careers. "Div played behind Mo, Bobby and Sadio. It doesn't mean you're not world class if you don't start for us. It's a nice story, let's carry on from here. "We have to rotate, that's clear. We have to is the headline. It's always like this, you make changes with fresh legs and have higher energy levels."

HOOPS SET TO BUY JOTA

CELTIC will make their loan move for frontman Jota permanent before the end of this season.

The Portuguese has been a massive hit since arriving in Glasgow from Benfica. He has scored eight times in 18 games and chipped in with six assists.

Celtic have a buying option at £6.5m and are ready to trigger it before it expires.

Jota is facing a couple of weeks out with a hamstring injury but it will be excellent news for gaffer Ange Postecoglou.

He's made no secret of how much he would like to keep the winger.

He said: "Jota is just starting his career but he's already fallen in love with the club. He loves the environment here and the supporters. Who wouldn't? Who wouldn't want to play for a football club where you get 60,000 cheering you on?"

KLOPP MO FEAR

Salah talks dragging admits Kop boss

CONTRACT talks with Mo Salah are taking a long time admits Liverpool boss Jurgen Klopp.

The Egyptian has hit a rich seam of form and would be welcomed at any club on the planet.

He says he's happy at Liverpool and wants to stay at Anfield. But Salah has also made it clear that he's not 100% pleased with the way his new contract is being handled behind the scenes at Anfield.

He has 18 months left on his deal and Barcelona boss Xavi is especially keen to get his hands on him.

Salah said: "The decision is in the hands of the management and they have to solve this issue.

"This is something that makes me happy that a team like Barcelona is interested in me, but I'm happy in Liverpool and we will see what happens."

Klopp is clearly a little concerned. He said: "We are talking. Extending a contract of a player like Mo, it's not like a cup of tea in the afternoon and you find an agreement. That is normal. I can say a few things because the rest is not for the public.

"I don't know if the interview is in English and got translated.

"Mo is fine, I am fine. I think what we all want is clear and things like this need time. That's it."
